HIV/AIDS education integrated into nurse curriculum

BY JOSEPH ZULU

SITEKI - Sixty three groups of student nurses have graduated at Good Shepherd Nursing College since establishment.

This was revealed by the college's Principal Tutor, Sister Jostina Mkhabela who was speaking during a graduation ceremony held at the college on Thursday last week.

The event was attended by officials from the Ministry of Health and the hospital as well as family and friends.

Founded in 1972, the nursing school offered a one year programme which has now been extended to two years.

"With the assistance of Nazarene Nursing College and UNICEF, the college has been able to revise and upgrade the programme," said Mkhabela. She also revealed that HIV/AIDS education has been integrated throughout the curriculum to support a stronger pre service foundation.

Mkhabela commended donors such as the international centre AIDS care, ICAP, USAID and the President Fund for AIDS Relief, PEPFAR for providing mobile classes.

She said the mobile units include three classrooms, a computer laboratory with 30 computers, toilets and four lecture offices with furniture. According to ICAP country director, Kerry Bruce, the organisation will also pay salaries for two lecturers for a period of 12 months.
